Bay-Delta Oversight Council

Subject: Cal-Fed Process

Attached is a note from Alex Hildebrand raising a question and concern regarding the Advisory Council's specific role and responsibilities. Alex also called me yesterday and elaborated on his perspective. Specifically, he is disturbed by what he perceives as representations of CUWA/AG that their process is the only meaningful one. This irks him for obvious reasons, as well as his observation that the fledgling stakeholder process needs to involve direct representation from the Delta or other areas of origin. He specifically views the stakeholder group as representing project-dependent agriculture and lacking the participation of such entities as Stockton East, MID, TID and other areas of origin in the Sacramento Valley.

He indicated his intention to work with representatives from those areas of origin in order to communicate their concerns to the Cal-Fed process and the stakeholders.
